Arrests a Mystery.

"I called on Tom and his wife, whose is the Hotel Seville, and was with them at 11:30 last Wednesday night, when the police arrested all three of us. At it the time it was all a mystery to me, but it was no dream when Inspector in the March 10 me with his third degree at police headquarters.

"What's your business?' he demanded, with a horrihe leer. I said I was and was up here merely to pay a visit to my brother-in-law and to spend a dittle honest money in New York.

"What's your business worth?' this police lunkhead shouted at me. I replied that it was worth about $2.000 a year.

""Ha, ha!' he yelled, 'and you up here skinning Wall Street investors out of $306.000 by a get-rich-quick swindlet Fine thing, you are, you thief?

"Men,' he rattled on, 'takke a look at this thing, and look at him good!"

"Then all the detectives—and there seemed to be a thousand—pecked at me through their black masks.

"Take him upstairs; take this thing upstairs to be mugged!" cried McCarferty, staking up and down the floor. And making a grandstand play. I could see he was a bluffer, but that didn't relieve the situation, so far as I was concerned. Being in his power, I would have been clubbed undoubtedly had I told this copper what I though told this copper what I though told this copper what I though told this copper was I though told the county did the Petersburged by his in the first the part of the County and the county and the county and Needless to say Horner was discharged in court. He stoutly maintained that he knew nothing of the transactions complained of, and the fact that his name had been forged by O'Connor on an application for a private mail box at the New York postofice helped to establish his innocence of any wrongdoing.

NTO every generation of Americans George Washington is justly held to be the purest figure in history - a superb example of the perfect citizen - a just and righteous ruler and "a light for after time."

This commanding personality had a magnificent physique. He stood over six feet in his stockings, was remarkable for horsemanship, agility and strength—the finest gentleman and athlete of his day.

His constitution was of iron and he knew how to keep it so. His biographers declare that in eating and in drinking as in all things he was normal; enjoying the juice of the malt all the days of his life. He drank it around campfires, as well as in his own home and upon social and state occasions.

Furthermore, upon his Mount Vernon plantation he had a brew house, as was the regular custom of wealthy Virginians.

"In Virginia the richer colonists brewed beer from malt imported from England,"—Nat'l Mag, Hist., vol. 16, page 180.

LEIELAND, VA., March 18.—Dr. R. J.

Payne, of the health board, reports a decrease in the number of smallpox natients in the quarantine districts of lower Stafford. Unless conditions change the quarantine will shortly be raised. So far as known no efforts towards funigating houses or clothing
of infected patients have been made.
The disease has been of such a mild nature that many refuse to believe it to be smallpox. In many instances the patients do not go to bed, nor lose a meal. Indeed, they go and come as they please.

A certain well known man suffering from this malady has a good wife, who was most anxious to alleviate his sufferings, but whose good intentions are superior to her nursing qualities. This
